

“Money is like Manure.”

If you want things to grow, you have to spread it around.

Do your homework, follow the rules, finish school, get a job, work hard, achieve the American Dream. Opportunity knocked - and anyone willing to put some skin in the game - could answer. That was thirty years ago. The combination of current circumstances - reduced jobs, reduced wages, reduced benefits, increasing health insurance costs - has effectively eliminated this opportunity for far too many young adults.

Income Range	% of All Households	% of All Income	This Many People ↓	Live on This Much Income ↓	If $100 represents all income, then each household receives this much.
$0 - $35,000	35.59%	8.84%			36 households each receive $0.25
$35,000 - $70,000	29.20%	19.73%			29 households each receive $0.68
$70,000 - $100,000	15.02%	16.64%			15 households each receive $1.11
$100,000 - $250,000	18.27%	35.60%			18 households each receive $1.95
$250,000 and Up	1.92%	19.18%			2 households each receive $10.00

Federal Deficit / Surplus vs Top Tax Rate for Wealthiest Americans

If there's a way for America to prosper with the present tax structure, we've yet to find it.

